*denotes item for membership vote

1. Call to Order and Introductions: 8:03 a.m.
2. *NwOESC BAC Meeting Minutes Review and Approval
 - a. A motion to approve the minutes of the NwOESC Business Advisory Council meeting held on December 4, 2018 was made by William Hanak and second by James Roach. Motion passed.

3. Business/Education Spotlight:

a. Mike Tisovic, Chase Brass (as arranged by Matt Davis)

-Mr. Tisovic shared information about Chase Brass; in business for 54 years, over 330 employees, operate 24/7, produce brass rod and bar, largest mill in NW America, and contributes 3 million to local economy. Mr. Tisovic share a PowerPoint presentation addressing needs and challenges in the workforce today. Priority skills for Chase Brass include Math, Critical Thinking, and Problem Solving. Chase Brass has implemented an apprenticeship program to help identify talent and ensure a strong workforce given the shortage of skilled workers. Mr. Tisovic indicated that Chase Brass needs schools to support Science Fairs prior to MS to focus on problem solving; promote unstructured learning opportunities for students to explore without risk; support job shadowing experiences; put academics first by marketing/celebrating them; provide STEM co and extracurricular opportunities; promote robotics groups/clubs. Mr. Tisovic is very involved personally in FIRST Robotics. If any school personnel is interested in a tour or learning more, contact him.

4. Old Business - none

5. New Business:

a. BAC Annual Plan (due March 1, 2019)

-uploaded to ODE; available on NwOESC website

b. Update from Priorities Workgroup

-Members met in February to discuss priorities. ODE's executive summary, attributes of a graduate, and the BAC Member Survey were reviewed. With a focus in fostering collaboration and publicizing/communicating information; the group had preliminary discussion on the need for an education business liaison. This position/person would work to connect students to career paths including local opportunities; assist in aligning local business wants/needs to guided pathways for students; share defined opportunities including wages and steps to achieve; provide parent and student education; develop collaborative linkages/partnerships; and focus initially on manufacturing. More work needs to be done on liaison position development and funding; political advocacy; local campaign (i.e. "Go Local"); and addressing the skills gap through curriculum and training initiative (i.e. Skills boot Camp).

c. Strategies for developing/strengthening working relationships among businesses, labor organizations and educational personnel:

d. Other: Steve Arnold discussed the Soft Skills Curriculum he started working on while at Allen Co. ESC to give to 'life skills' classroom teachers for creation of lesson plans.

7. Information Sharing related to Education and Business Collaboration Efforts:

a. Defiance County Economic Development Director (Jerry Hayes)

-Carla Hinkle, Workforce Development Manager, conducted a Job Fair and Interview session at Hicksville Schools with area employers

-Defiance College and Credit Adjustments working on skill sets for employment, including soft skills and finance.

b. Fulton County Economic Development Director (Matt Gilroy)

-Fulton County Career Exploration Day included over 300 area high school students. The day included information as well as mock interviews with several local companies and senior students.

- "Amazing Shake Competition" took place at Swanton MS, with Matt Gilroy serving as one of the judges.*
- Larry Brown attended the Northwest Regional Development meeting in December and shared about graduation requirements.*
- Matt encouraged members to use the council as a conduit to communicate with businesses and advocate legislatively*
- Will share with the group the finding from The Toledo Chamber of Commerce (Toledo MSA) study regarding gaps in employee skills and available jobs. Two examples are machinists and mechanical engineers.*

c. Henry County Economic Development Director (Denise Dahl)

- Denise shared the importance of robotics and debate as critical to help shape students beyond high school*
- Has been collaborating with NSCC and Patrick Henry school administration on addressing parent engagement and in demand jobs.*
- Community Improvement Corporation (CIC) would like to see stronger partnering with schools and parents.*

d. Williams County Economic Development Director (Matt Davis)

- Sunshine Fox is now in new position with Williams County Ohio Means Jobs.*
- 'Impact 419' is promoting small group (3 or 4 participants) factory tours.*
- Matt is meeting with businesses to help determine specifically how businesses are willing to partner with schools.*

e. Northwest State Community College (Dr. Thomson)

- Reiterated that businesses are losing people through mass retirements and not being able to find qualified replacements*
- Over ½ of good jobs do not require further education - be unashamed to follow these paths.*
- NSCC is working with Bryan Hospital and Harvard Medical School to provide an Opioid Addiction Seminar open to the public April 12th and 13th at NSCC*
- NSCC has Agribusiness and Agronomy programs available. Tours and information are available - i.e. Fulton and Defiance County Fairgrounds this spring.*

- Josh Biederstedt CNC routers have been added to classroom to focus on specific skills being requested local employers*
- Kelly Meyers noted that Holgate has added 3D printers and CTE electives in media, website design, and digital photography as they look to expand offerings.*

-Mike Struble commended Mike Tisovic's passion for the advancement and promotion of his industry to upcoming graduates.

8. Issues From the Council/Around the Table:

-Steve Arnold asked Mike Tisovic what skills or attributes someone would need to get in the door at Chase Brass. Mike said, "a willingness to work and learn, show up on time/every day, drug free, be a listener, and take instruction." It is also beneficial to have math skills, be able to process and use thinking skills as well as go through the apprenticeship program.
